

Bed Bath & Beyond Selects Teradata as Business Intelligence Platform

May 31, 2005 at 10:31 AM EDT

DAYTON, Ohio--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 31, 2005--Teradata, a division of NCR Corporation (NYSE:NCR), announced today that Bed Bath & Beyond is deploying a Teradata(R) data warehouse to improve data availability throughout the organization and increase scalability.

The Bed Bath & Beyond installation of the Teradata system will include migrating the company's existing data warehouse onto the Teradata platform and then testing the system to ensure accurate and timely reporting. Bed Bath & Beyond expects to expand its data warehousing environment and develop new reports that will enable business users to make even better decisions.

"Bed Bath & Beyond is known throughout the retail industry as a customer-driven company. The implementation of our technology will help them stay close to their customers while improving the way they go to market with new products and promotions," said Rob Berman, Teradata vice president of retail industry solutions.
