NCR's Retalix Software Solution Makes Transportation Optimization Easier at Massdiscounters

June 3, 2013 at 8:00 AM EDT

DULUTH, Ga.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 3, 2013-- NCR Corporation, the global leader in consumer transaction technologies, announced today that Massdiscounters of South Africa, a leading retail division of MassMart Management Group, has deployed NCR's Retalix Transportation Management software.

This solution improves Massdiscounters' logistics operations by automating scheduling processes, synchronizing yard and dock activities and optimizing inbound and outbound shipments. The software helps the retailer save labor and infrastructure costs and provides enhanced supply chain productivity, compliance and visibility.

"This suite of software products from the Retalix division of NCR Retail gives Massdiscounters the insights and tools to automate labor-intensive dock, yard and distribution center operations, and will help us optimize our inbound and outbound transportation across the country," said Massdiscounters Systems and Supply Chain Director John Hart. "We rely on our partnership to assist us in driving greater operational efficiencies and improved supply chain visibility so we can provide the best retail experience for our shoppers."

NCR's Retalix Transportation Management software is a comprehensive solution suite that empowers retailers and distributors to integrate and manage all aspects of transportation processes more profitably and effectively. The suite includes Retalix Transportation Optimization, Retalix Dock Scheduling and Retalix Yard Management solutions, which Massdiscounters has deployed, as well as Retalix Power Delivery.

Massdiscounters uses Retalix Transportation Optimization to automate major transportation functions, including inbound/outbound planning, fleet routing, logistics procurement and financial settlement.

Retalix Dock Scheduling gives Massdiscounters control of inbound scheduling and dock operations through a centralized, automated platform. With cloud-based delivery of an intuitive Web-portal, Retalix Dock Scheduling provides the retailer comprehensive functionality for supervision and management of all dock operations.

Retalix Yard Management helps Massdiscounters improve yard productivity and reduce costs by synchronizing and managing all yard resources, including personnel, space and fleet.

"We are working with Massdiscounters to help the company realize cost savings and relieve operational challenges with our innovative software," said Tammy Weant, general manager of global supply chain management, Retalix division of NCR Retail. "We are proud of our long term partnership with Massdiscounters, which started in 2004 and is going strong into the future. We believe that the wide range of our solutions Massdiscounters has deployed across their supply chain operations will pay dividends that will accrue to the company's bottom line, speed up operations and, by ensuring merchandise is where it's supposed to be when it's supposed to be there, enhance shoppers' experiences."
