

NCR to Exhibit at AUSA Annual Meeting 2018 with ChenegaTI

September 27, 2018 at 8:00 AM EDT

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 27, 2018-- NCR Government Systems LLC, a subsidiary of NCR Corporation (NYSE:NCR), a global leader in omni-channel solutions, today announced that it will participate in the Association of the United States Army (AUSA) 2018 Annual Meeting together with Chenega Technical Innovations, LLC (ChenegaTI), an ANC-owned subsidiary of Chenega Corporation. Based at booth #3251 at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C., from October 8-10, NCR will show visitors the wide variety of capabilities that its Mperium software, combined with ChenegaTI technology, offers for Army environments and facilities.

NCR Government Systems provides solution development and acts as the delivery arm for NCR's public sector customers. NCR has developed Mperium software as an enabler for small to medium installations for point-of-service requirements that exceed standard point-of-sale requirements and provide full customization with a wide variety of applications. At the AUSA Annual Meeting, NCR will be co-exhibiting with ChenegaTI, which provides military government and commercial customers with innovative technology solutions through its highly qualified core team of professionals. ChenegaTI offers a full range of world-class professional services in areas of Information Technology, Engineering, Technical Operations, Training and more.

"We are thrilled to team up with ChenegaTI and demonstrate our Mperium software Point of Service application at the AUSA show," said Stan Rattcliffe, president of NCR Government Systems, LLC. "Mperium is more than a software design, it's a means of speeding up the process for new applications for our Army."

Visitors are invited to attend NCR's product demonstration on Tuesday October 9, from 10:30 - 11:30 am ET.
