

NCR Showcases IoT-Enabled Managed Services at PTC's LiveWorx '18 Digital Transformation Conference

June 18, 2018 at 3:00 PM EDT

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 18, 2018-- NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR), a global leader in omni-channel solutions, today announced that the company is showcasing its Internet of Things (IoT)-enabled managed services capabilities, together with PTC, at LiveWorx. The services combine IT service management with IoT device connectivity and insights to deliver next-generation consumer experiences and drive productivity gains. LiveWorx is a global technology conference and marketplace for solutions engineered for a smart, connected world that takes place in Boston from June 17-20, 2018.

NCR's portfolio of IoT-enabled managed services help enterprises in industries such as retail, financial services, and hospitality optimize the availability and security of consumer interaction technologies, including self-service and mobile channels. The portfolio leverages NCR's Digital Connected Services, a differentiated framework that integrates PTC's ThingWorx® platform so customers can quickly and easily connect devices and gain real-time insights to improve business performance.

NCR also participated in a panel discussion at LiveWorx alongside PTC, Impinj, Inc. and Axis Communications. The panel discussed how retailers can significantly improve the in-store consumer experience, enabled in large part by connected device analytics, RFID tracking, and remote device management and control.

NCR has one of the world's largest services data warehouses with the intelligence of servicing more than 6 million devices from over 300 vendors. NCR's research shows that customers using its managed services can experience up to a 40 percent decrease in service interruptions, which can mean lower operating expenses and higher customer satisfaction.
